

Audition Guidelines

Please arrive 10-15 minutes early for your scheduled audition slot to fill out your audition form.

Please prepare a contemporary musical theatre or rock/pop song that showcases your vocal range, and which you are comfortable singing a cappella.

You may also be asked to do additional theatre or vocal exercises, or to read from the script.

Callbacks will be held Friday, May 12th.

Thank you so much for auditioning with us!

Character Descriptions

(Please note that ages are approximate and we will certainly consider people who don't quite fit those ages. All ethnicities encouraged to audition, for all roles.)

MELODEE, 18. Naive, arrogant, full of life, rebellious. Wants to believe she's a lot more confident and self-reliant than she actually is; uses sarcasm and flat-out falsehood to cover the hole left by being abandoned by her mother. Needs wide, strong vocal range. (A3 -- G5 required; G3 -- D6 for optional notes)

HARMONI, 19-20, her sister. Smart, no-nonsense, borderline obsessive-compulsive. Gets more done than should be humanly possible; holds strong opinions about how life should and should not be lived, and lives up to all of them. Needs wide, strong vocal range. (A3 -- F5)

PATRICIA, 50s-60s, their grandmother. Capable, sensible, compassionate, funny. Her faith in God has been tempered by some big failures, and come out the stronger for it. Has raised both girls since they were little; now also cares for foster children on top of holding down a job. Strong alto range. (F3 -- C5)

JAY, 20s. Smart, slick, charming. The life of the party until you realize he's stolen your identity right down to your dentures. Has completely bought into the idea that nothing is wrong as long as he wants it. Quite possibly incapable of having a real relationship. Strong rock tenor. (D3 -- F4)

GREG, 40s. Brooding, sarcastic, pitiless. He is someone who has looked at the world and deemed it meaningless; he believes himself to be superior because he has the guts to believe that, rather than running around trying to find the meaning. Deals in multiple types of illegal drugs. Strong rock baritone. (A2 -- F4)
